

The Murphy Moment—Notes from a Dog-sciple!

Our journey has begun! This past Sunday we learned that during Lent we journey with Jesus as he walks the path God had before him. We learned that Jesus was tempted three times by the devil and each time Jesus said NO! Jesus is amazing, isn't he? In much the same way, we learned how to say "NO" when we are tempted!

We also learned that we are in a new season—a new Church season—it is called Lent. Lent is represented by the color purple and we were challenged that every time we see the color purple we are going to say "Jesus Loves Me". That is what this entire Lenten journey to the cross is all about ... Jesus Loves Me!

This coming Sunday during our children's message we are going to start our special worship series which will include hearing the story of how Jesus came to the cross and how he rose on Easter morning. Come and join us. I heard from Pastor that we are going to be using Nesting Eggs—hmmmmm, what are those? - to help us hear the story. I can't wait. And, it's our week with the Praise Team who are going to teach us the song, "Jesus Loves Me" ... woof! That sounds perfect for our journey.

Oh, by the way, Miss Brita asked me to remind everyone that if you miss a Sunday and want to see our lesson they are on our webpage at <https://stjohnsantioch.org/> just go to the Children's Ministry Page and look for me, I will be waiting for you!

Only four more days until we are all together again. I can't wait.

Hugs, pawprints and prayers for a happy week,

Murphy
